

ProposalCentral Helps Grant Programs of All Sizes Thrive

Case Study with the Alternatives Research & Development Foundation

Angela N. Hvitved, PhD, MA, Program Director at the Alternatives Research & Development Foundation (ARDF), shares how ProposalCentral has been instrumental in managing and streamlining her grant program. When the number of applications unexpectedly increased dramatically, Angela relied on ProposalCentral to handle the increased workload efficiently, ensuring the process remained smooth from start to finish.

The platform's intuitive committee roster and reporting tools allowed her team to manage the increased volume without missing a beat.

For small grant programs like ARDF, ProposalCentral strikes the perfect balance between functionality and simplicity, empowering teams to handle complex workflows with ease. Angela also praised the exceptional support from her Client Support Analyst, who ensured her team maximized the platform's powerful features. "ProposalCentral has been the ideal solution for our program. I've recommended it to others seeking an efficient, scalable system," she added.

“Earlier in our program's history, we managed reviews via email, which was challenging to track. With ProposalCentral, everything is centralized, and I can easily monitor the entire process.”

— Angela N. Hvitved, PhD, MA, Program Director at the Alternatives Research & Development Foundation (ARDF)

